

Link to full article: <https://www.shropshirelive.com/news/2026/08/02/23-year-old-shropshire-site-manager-shortlisted-for-women-in-property-award/>

23-year-old Shropshire site manager shortlisted for Women in Property Award

A Shropshire site manager has been shortlisted for one of the UK property industry's most prestigious awards.

Savanna Hand

Savanna Hand, who is currently working on Annington's The Weald development in Mindenhurst, Surrey, has been named a finalist in the Rising Star category at the Inspiring Women in Property Awards.

The 23-year-old impressed judges with her hands-on leadership, work ethic and remarkable career progression from labourer to site manager in just three years, balancing the demands of a busy construction site with evenings spent studying for professional qualifications.

Savanna previously worked as a community police officer before pursuing her dream of a career in construction. Since joining Annington, she has managed two major developments at Netheravon in Wiltshire and Linton on Ouse in North Yorkshire.