

Print

An egg-cellent quest leads to sweet rewards

CHILDREN in Deepcut were taken on an egg-citing scavenger hunt in the search of some sweet Easter treats.

Housing provider Annington hosted the youngsters at The Weald in Mindenhurst, to celebrate the launch of its second phase of transformed homes.

Working with Bridges Estate Agents, the children from Portesbery School and Evergrove Nursery were invited to join in with the Easter-themed fun by searching for clues hidden around the green space on the development and winning some Easter chocolate.

Debbie Eaton, chairman of Evergrove Nursery, said: "Wherever possible, we enjoy taking the children out into nature and to explore the outdoor space around our nursery.

"They loved getting involved and searching for the colourful clues to win some Easter treats, and we look forward to working with Annington in future on other experiences for our children."

Stacy Whitehead, marketing manager at Annington, said: "We are proud to develop such strong relationships with locals around our homes, and it was fantastic to see how much the children enjoyed this activity.

"As we continue to transform homes at The Weald into high-quality rental properties, we're looking forward to working alongside the thriving Mindenhurst community on future projects."

Children from Evergrove Nursery, in Deepcut, searched for clues hidden around the green space at The Weald development, Mindenhurst, in the hope of finding some Easter treats

PICTURES: ANNINGTON

