

Pre-school receives learning equipment

CHILDREN at a pre-school in West Oxfordshire are enjoying using new, interactive learning equipment.

The equipment has been donated to Brize Norton Village Pre-School by Annington, which is currently refurbishing homes just under two miles away in Carterton.

Research shows a variety of sensory experiences positively influences cognitive development in children.

The new water tray will provide the pre-schoolers with the chance to develop their creativity and motor skills.

Jackie Hampson, manager at Brize Norton Village Pre-School, said: "We are proud to offer a range of hands-on learning experiences for our pupils, which positively contributes to their early childhood development.

"The children are already having so much fun learning through water play, and this donation will provide endless opportunities for creativity, sensory exploration, and social interaction."

Stacy Whitehead, marketing manager for Annington, added: "We are proud to support the local community wherever possible, and it is fantastic to see the interactive approach Brize Norton Village Pre-School takes with its learning.

"Just a short distance away from our homes in Carterton, this pre-school plays a vital role for families, and we hope this donation will be enjoyed for years to come."

Annington's refurbished homes in Carterton start at £1,400 per month for a two-bedroom home and have been designed with energy efficiency in mind, with an EPC C rating.
